DON'T MISS OUT ON SELLING GARLIC BY NOT HAVING THE ALLICIN CLAIM: ALWAYS TRUST NEW-GAR® NUTRACEUTICAL GARLIC

Garlic has always been a top seller supplement according to several retail reports until the last 3 years as it dropped few notches. In our research on the health food stores and the market in general, we found out that 75% of the garlic supplements on the market are missing the allixin claim thus losing a big portion of its benefits. Thus the consumer is not seeing the benefit of taking it and stores are losing repeat sales.

Garlic produces a chemical called allixin by an enzymatic reaction of the enzyme allinase and alliin once digested. Allinase is completely and irreversibly inhibited by the acidic conditions found in the stomach thus bypassing the stomach would be the way to secure the passage of the allixin to the blood. Enteric coated tablets with high allixin potential (3mg-6mg) has been the most successful method to digest the garlic supplement as it avoids the acidity of the stomach and delivers it successfully into the small intestine thus penetrating the blood.

Studies have found that allixin has a number of beneficial actions that may positively impact human health.

Allixin has demonstrated beneficial effect on the heart because of its antiplatelet, hypolipidemic and circulatory properties (garlic is considered as a blood thinner)*

Researchers believe that red blood cells turn the sulfur in garlic into hydrogen sulfide gas that expands our blood vessels, making easy to regulate blood pressure*

Studies have also found the allixin in garlic has anticancer, chemo preventive and antimicrobial properties.*

Garlic was used to combat H1N1 successfully.
