Where Nature & Science Meet

QUALITY * TRACEABILITY * SUSTAINABILITY

The Dietary Supplement Industry is not just about supplements, it is about empowering individuals to take control of their well being.

The FDA regulates dietary supplement marketing ingredients safety and manufacturing. However, there are several third party organizations that independently monitor and verify products quality. Many of these programs exceed FDA standards for dietary supplements.

Nature4Science, Inc. along with its strategic manufacturing partners have participated in these programs from the start and adheres to all, including identification by DNA method.

Nature4Science, Inc is proud to announce that in the 22 years of business, our quality record has been the highest ranking in the ingredients supply industry. We stand behind every active ingredient's component stated on the certificate of analysis. Nature4Science, Inc. is quality guaranteed ingredients supplier, and undergoes stringent testing to give our customer a dependable starting ingredient.

Furthermore, Nature4Science, Inc. is aware that business can have a negative impact on the economic viability, environmental protection and social equity. For those reasons, we are committed along with our strategic partners/manufacturers to find ways in which we can reduce the impact to our world by many ways detailed in our sustainability policy.

Anaheim, CA. Sept 20th, 2023- Nature4Science, Inc.

The leading supplier of premium quality raw ingredients including New-Ga® the # 1 nutraceutical and pharmaceutical garlic in the industry and headed by Mrs. Mary AbiFadel Hasrouni, president/CEO, revealed today that Zaffronel®, our standardized saffron extract 2% safranal has shown a great increase due to the high industry's demand after the pandemic. Studies have demonstrated the efficacy of the saffron extract in mild to moderate depression, as well as cognitive properties to provide an overall positive state of mental health. At the demand of our loyal customers, and with the help of our strategic partner/manufacturer saffron grower in Spain, two additional grades of saffron extract were developed and are in great demand. Zaffronel® organic is also available.
